

Mich Landry

Mich has nearly 25 years of accounting, financial planning, and leadership experience. After completing a Business of Administration degree in Accounting from Lakehead University in 1989, Mich worked as an accountant with a national firm before joining Ward & Uptigrove in 1992. In 1994, he moved to the financial planning division, UMA Financial (former name of W&U Wealth). Mich obtained his CMA designation in 1995 and CFP designation in 1998.

In 1999, the company expanded by creating a financial service platform for independent Chartered Accounting firms and Mich became the President of Independent Accountants Investment Counsel Inc. (IAIC). Mich retired from IAIC in 2012 to concentrate his efforts solely on W&U Wealth and its client base.

In his roles at W&U Wealth, Mich provides professional financial, wealth, and estate planning advice to a wide array of clients.
